DAIKIN AIR CONDITIONING

An International Organisation ...

Daikin Central Europe is a 100% daughter company of Daikin Europe NV, Belgium with its headquarters to the south of Vienna, Austria. Its markets can be found in the so called Central European region.

Founded in 1985 under the name of "Climex" and fully acquired by Daikin in 1999, Daikin Central Europe can nowadays rely on a stable network of well trained and professional partners in Austria, Bosnia Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Croatia, the Czech Republic, Hungary, Macedonia, Romania, Slovakia, Slovenia and Yugoslavia.

... With Local Strength and Service

With local offices in the Czech Republic, Hungary, Romania and Slovakia, Daikin Central Europe provides the ideal combination of local and international support to its partners and customers in order to keep pace with the growing demand for high quality products and first class service.

Professional Support

Daikin Central Europe has always maintained a policy of training its own staff as well as those of its business partners in all markets. Considerable expansion during the last few years and the increasing demand for professional training however, made it essential for the company to upgrade its training and showroom facilities and with the move to new premises in 2001, the plan finally became a reality.

The new "hands on" training center features (on 77 m<sup>2</sup>) a fully operative VRV system + centralised control, Super multi inverter, Multi split inverter, Sky Air and intelligent manager systems. This enables information to be simulated and demonstrated at first hand during theoretical instruction sessions to the benefit of the trainees.

The "theoretical" training center also offers modern facilities for up to 16 participants per course and during this year Daikin Central Europe will train more than 250 individuals from 11 countries.
